Replacing Doyle Drive

Doyle Drive is being re-envisioned as the Presidio Parkway – a roadway tucked into the natural contours of the Presidio of San Francisco and the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, one of the nation’s largest urban parks. The Presidio Parkway will create a spectacular regional gateway between the iconic Golden Gate Bridge and the city of San Francisco. Construction of the Presidio Parkway began in December 2009. Substantial project completion is expected in 2013.

A Parkway, Not a Freeway

The Presidio Parkway design improves and enhances the experience for bicyclists, pedestrians, and transit riders within the project area. The new roadway design will allow pedestrians and bicyclists to cross over or under Doyle Drive at numerous locations in accordance with the Presidio Trails and Bikeways Master Plan. There also will be new connections to Battery Blaney, Main Post and Crissy Field.
